Hello Everyone My name is Mike I am new to TT. Happy to be here. I have a question regarding my 2 Stroke Polaris It is oil injected. I want to premix my gas and have been for 2 days now. my question is do I need to use a blockoff kit or can I just leave it the way it is? and also I read it should? I have ridden it only for a few hours like 1 or 2 and the oil level in the tank does not seem to be changing.

The Mechanics . The biggest difference between the two engine types is the number of times the cylinder fires during a single phase of the engine's power cycle, known as the stroke. This cycle is comprised of the intake of gas/air, its compression, followed by the combustion that makes the vehicle go, and then dissipation of the exhaust through the exhaust pipes.

File Type PDF 98 Polaris 2 Cycle Automatic Manual
