Film review

Brown on Resolution (US title: Born for Glory; UK re-issue title: Forever England) is a 1935 film adaptation of the 1929 C. S. Forester novel Brown on Resolution, with John Mills in his first lead role playing the title role. The film is also notable for being the first film to use actual Royal Navy ships. [citation needed] The plot is centred on the illegitimate son of a British naval officer ...

Forever England - Alison Light

Alison Light's Forever England is an exception to this rule-of-thumb: a study of critically neglected, 'middlebrow' writers between the wars (including Daphne du Maurier, Agatha Christie, and Ivy Compton-Burnett), Forever England is an engaging, beautifully crafted, lively study of this rather "frowned upon" (at least by fusty, old, almost fossilised professors) area of literary study.
