Important Consideration for the FTTH Design What should be the important consideration for the FTTH design There are some important ideas for FTTH Design which play a key role in creating FTTH Network.

Important Consideration for the FTTH Design ...
FTTH means fiber to the home. Its a network of fiber optic cable that comes to the home of the end-user. Before the invention of FTTH, an ISP used to lay down optic fiber to the exchange and then provide individual connection via copper cable. Furthermore, as technology advanced, fiber optics became popular. ISP's began installing it near to the home and last-mile connectivity was provided ...
