A long time fan of the NX250, I had to learn that the degree is a totally different bike (except for the engine), so spare parts from the NX will not fit. Even the carb is different and the air filter is L-shaped - no chance for NX parts. At least I was able to get the airfilters at wemoto. But thats the only

And since the degree sound is pretty lame, too, I took a striped NX250 (US-version) muffler - aluminum coated, to prevent rust. The AX1/NX250 cams got a lot more lift than the degree parts, so I swapped them as well. With that setup, the Degree runs a lot better, but still not as good as an NX250 - I credit that to the smaller carb the degree got.
