78xxS79xxS Arrow is pleased to announce the addition of the 7900 series powered door operator to its product line. This series is an extension of the 7800 series but offers the convenience of a plug-in power cord, in lieu of the hard wire power input requirement for the 7800 series. The 7900 series, once installed, simply plugs into a code compliant 120V AC power receptacle. The power cord is only available on new 7900 Series products and cannot be added to 7800 Series operators.
