The Letters of Vincent van Gogh - Wikipedia
Vincent van Gogh's letters are one of the greatest joys of modern literature, not only for the inherent beauty of the prose, and the sharpness of the observations, but also for their portrait of the artist as a man wholly and selflessly devoted to the work he had to set himself to. Van Gogh's letters are a journal, a meditative autobiography.

Vincent van Gogh The Letters
The Letters of Vincent van Gogh. Vincent van Gogh's surviving correspondence begins on 29 September, 1872, when he was nineteen years old, and ends on 23 July, 1890, when he was thirty-seven. From the start, the close inter-relationship between his letters and his paintings was fundamental to the shaping of his reputation, in which the narrative of his personal life remains intimately bound up with the reception of his visual art.

The Letters of Vincent van Gogh by Vincent van Gogh
"The Letters of Vincent Van Gogh" is a collection of the correspondences between Van Gogh and his brother, Theo, that gives an incredibly enthralling look into the life of this genius. Tormented by loss of religious faith, poverty, and lack of success as a painter, Van Gogh also had bouts of elation, and every emotion on the human spectrum is illustrated in these letters.
