On the other hand, a power relationship can only be articulated on the basis of two elements which are each indispensable if it is really to be a power relationship: that (i) the other(i) (the one over whom power is exercised) be thoroughly recognized and maintained to the very end as a person who acts; and that, faced with a relationship of power, a whole held of responses, reactions, results, and possible inventions may open up. Obviously the bringing into play of power relations does not ...

So, as a mélange of many problems concerning children, souls, communities, the sick, (governmentality), Foucault elaborates, means three things: 1) Foucault, above n1, 108, first, (the ensemble formed by the institutions, procedures, analyses, reflections, calculations and tactics that allow the exercise of this very specific albeit complex form of power, which has as its target population). Second, governmentality refers to (the tendency that, over a long period and throughout ...
