Too many times, I have been so distracted in my own needs and wants that I placed God in the back burner only to find myself feeling miserable, alone, and afraid. However, when I remember to put God at the core of everything I do, there is nothing to fear. Remembering to put God first is hard work.

The Mindful Catholic reminded me of the work by Fr. Irala's, "Achieving Peace of Heart". Fr Irala was a Jesuit Psychologist from the 1940's . If you can get your hands on this book, you will see that the concept of taking back control of your racing thoughts is not new.(Sadly, Fr. Irala's book is out of print.

Sometimes in our frustration our faith is encumbered and our ability to be with God becomes that more difficult. I think we all suffer through this ebb and flow with dealing with our faith in God. It is not like we cut God out completely, it is that we allow ourselves to focus on the distractions of life that we no longer put our trust in Him to lead us in His path.
