Theatre of the Unimpressed is Tannahill's wry and revelatory personal reckoning with the discipline he's dedicated his life to, and a roadmap for a vital twenty-first-century theatre - one that apprehends the value of 'liveness' in our mediated age and the necessity for artistic risk and its attendant failures. In considering dramaturgy, programming and alternative models for producing, Tannahill aims to turn theatre from an obligation to a destination.

Theatre of the Unimpressed is a series of reflections on these conversations. Tannahill concludes that there are currently two types of theatre: '[t]here's a prevailing theatre that is risk averse and wary of failure, and there's a dark-horse theatre that's predicated on risk and failure as the preconditions of a transformative event'.
